

MY HUSBAND ATE ALL MY ICE CREAM

Heather Reese

I don't just have a blog, I have a community. I have 250,000+ best friends that I share my blog with. They are engaged, and passionate about what I write and what they see on my blog, because they trust me. We do what all friends do: Share things we love, tell stories, and bond. Any blog can have readers, but a good blog has a community.

Services Offered

I can help promote your brand in several ways. I have banner advertising available in several different areas in a range of prices, I can do sponsored posts, product reviews, giveaways, sponsored tweets, sponsored Facebook posts, in-home parties, and brand ambassador programs. I'm also part of a large network of bloggers, and can find you other excellent bloggers to help promote your brand as well!
